Government Related Initiatives Program

The Canadian Space Agency coordinates all civil space-related activities for the Government of Canada. In support of this role, the Government Related Initiatives Program (GRIP) focuses on Earth observation systems for land, ocean, and the atmosphere to enhance government services.

By providing technical guidance in making optimum use of space-based technologies, GRIP helps government Departments derive the maximum benefit from investment by Canada and the international community in Earth observation. With this value-added support, Departments are better positioned to invest in and proceed with their projects for agriculture, fisheries, shipping, and many other sectors of the economy.

GRIP is administered along three strategic themes:

- _Environment
- _Resource and land-use management
- _Security and foreign policy
